How Biggest One-Farm Wheat Crop In Whole World Is Harvested.

BLISS, OKLA., Aug. 1.—This year's wheat crop in Oklahoma is now being threshed, and is promising a record-breaker. Figures as to the yield in the whole territory, of course, are lacking at this time, but 101 Ranch will do its share to swell the total with a crop estimated at 175,000 bushels.

Sounds big, doesn't it? Well, it's a big ranch. There are 70,000 acres of it and 9,000 acres devoted to wheat. This 101 ranch is where they do things on a large scale.

Now as to that wheat crop. Joe Miller says—and you believe him if he does go about in his shirt sleeves and wears an ancient hat with sweat stains clear out to the brim that beginning some three weeks ago, they had 40 harvesters backing off the boarded grain (poetical name for it). It took three horses to drag each of these harvesters, which were of the type cutting a six-foot swath. Some of these swaths were at least a mile long. If you want to become statistical, figure out how many bushels to the mile, reckoning 20 bushels to the acre.

And again Joe Miller will tell you, with the other Miller boys to back him up, that each of the machines cost from $200 to $300. Also it is an undisputed indisputable fact that it takes 46 drivers to drive 46 harvesters. Then there are 21 water haulers, twine haulers, etc., to say nothing of a few superintendents and a gang of men at the stables to feed and harness the mules and horses.

If you are used to some small or garden variety of farm, it will mean something to you when you hear from Joe Miller—no relation to the joker of that name—that he now has out six threshing outfits, besides the threshing machines. Each outfit needs 10 bundle wagons, 10 grain wagons, one cook wagon and water wagon. It calls for a total of 90 drivers of bundle wagons, six engineers, six separator men, six coal haulers, six water wagon drivers, six cooks, six assistant cooks, 60 grain wagon drivers and 36 pitchers (grain, not baseball.) Each of these machines thresh from 2,000 to 3,000 bushels of grain daily.

Incidentally Joe Miller, who is the oldest of the Miller boys, owners of 101 ranch, takes off his hat to the inventor of the blower and stacker. He says it is one of the greatest labor saving discoveries ever made. An employer of 400 men can appreciate that. By the way, there is never any dearth of harvest hands on 101 ranch. Applicants always apply there first.

On the Miller ranch the harvesters eat and sleep in the field, as they are from one to ten miles away from the house. A cook wagon, very much like the owl lunch wagons you see down town in cities, stays by them out in the field. There is a little counter in it and stools for the men, while the rear is taken up with the cook stove and a refrigerator. The men go to bed by the simple process of lying down on the ground, pulling their heads upon a shock of wheat and pulling a wagon over them for a comfort. The mules do not eat in the field. They are fed at the ranch stables, where 400 or 500 of them are allowed to fill up on corn and oats all night long. This is their only meal in the 24 hours, but it is one that lasts.

The 101 ranch wheat crop, although mammoth, is not its only one. The big tract of land, leased from the Ponca Indians, also produces 150,000 bushels of corn a year, 5,000 tons of prairie hay, 3,000 tons of alfalfa hay, and it supports 15,000 cattle and 3,000 hogs.

Joe Miller, 38, conducts general supervision over the farm and signs the checks, and he can sign pretty big ones, if he does do it with a lead pencil. He also communes with the Indian landlords in the Ponca tongue.

Next is Zach, who looks out for the 15,000 cattle and the cowboys, and who does most of the traveling.

George is the office man, and keeps in constant communication with all parts of the ranch and the United States by local and long distance telephone.

They have 200 acres in cotton at 101 ranch this year. They have more than that in watermelons. The cotton is an experiment.

Says Joe Miller: "If it turns out all right we'll plant some."

Stomach Troubles and Constipation.

No one can reasonably hope for good digestion when the bowels are constipated. Mr. Chas. Baldwin, of Edwardsville, Ill., says: "I suffered from chronic constipation and stomach troubles for several years, but, thanks to Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, am almost cured." Why not get a package of these tablets and get well and stay well? Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

Mrs. Ellen Graves is on trial at Georgetown for killing her husband. She claims the killing was accidental, but as the testimony tends to show that Mr. Graves had for 20 years abused his family and that he bent Mrs. Graves every few days, and on one occasion knocked her from a wagon unconscious, we vote that it was a justifiable accident and move the acquittal of Mrs. Graves. "Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

A peculiarity of Illinois' new primary law is that a candidate may have a majority of the popular vote while his opponent captures enough delegates to win the nomination. Under the law the voter may express his preference and also vote for delegates, and these expressions are counted separately. This peculiarity will probably cause much confusion in the State convention.

Mrs. Harvey Burks, Harrisburg, Illinois. Cured by "ZEMO" After Five Years' Torture.

WHY? SUFFER THE TORTURE OF ECZEMA OR ANY SKIN DISEASE WHEN THIS GOOD MEDICINE +ZEMO+ HAS NEVER FAILED TO CURE

E. W. HOCK MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. HARRISBURG, ILL., May 17th, 1905.

Dr. H. H. Burks, Harrisburg, Ill., writes: "I suffered six years from a torturing case of itching eczema of both arms. I tried eight different doctors, and every eczema cure I could hear of without result. The disease grew worse and spread to my neck and breast; my arms had aroar! boxes eaten in them; I soon became an invalid and was confined to my bed part of the time. My husband bought a bottle of 'ZEMO' the first application stopped the itching, and I began to improve in six weeks and one day the disease had disappeared, and my arms were clean and smooth as my picture will show, before and after using 'ZEMO.' My arms were so bad some of my friends wanted me to have them taken off, but I would not agree. I am now entirely cured and have gained ten pounds in weight, and feel better than I have felt in many years. I consider my quick recovery by using 'ZEMO' nothing short of a miracle. I will gladly answer all inquiries and recommend 'ZEMO' to all persons suffering from any itching skin disease. Yours gratefully, Mrs. Harvey Burks."

HARVEY HELM

of Lincoln county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, Sept. 1.

JUDGE JOHN W. HUGHES, of Mercer county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

M. F. NORTH

is a candidate for Representative of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

HON. HARVEY HELM's chances of winning the democratic nomination for Congress in this district grow brighter as the date of the primary approaches. Good news comes from every county in the district save Mr. Hughes' home county of Mercer, where very little support is expected. In fact it seems to be a "sure thing." Mr. Helm will carry seven of the 10 counties and his more enthusiastic friends claim he will get eight or nine. It has been a long time since Lincoln county has had a democratic Congressman but it seems that the tide is turning now and things are rapidly coming her way. So note it be.

THE Danville News says that the Kentucky Press Association did right in fixing a rate of five cents per line for mention of candidates and that the Eighth District League's advance of $5 on Congressional candidates' announcements was right and proper. The News ought to know and we withdraw our protest forthwith and move that instead of spending a part of his means with the papers, the candidate turn over to the members of the tripod his estate and hith right and give his note for a good sum in the event he is elected. There's no use in doing things by halves.

THE Frankfort Journal seems to have gotten a correct diagnosis of Attorney General Hays and his candidacy for governor, when it says of him: Hays is a very small bore statesman, who has gained an exaggerated idea of his importance through the cajolery of a few sordid ends, and who would throw him overboard without compunction if they should cease to find him useful.

LATEST returns from the primary election in Illinois show that the advisory vote for United States Senator will give Shelby M. Culom, senior Senator, a plurality of about, 35,000 over former Gov. Yates. Yates is the man who offered his services to Caleb Powers for the cowardly assassination of Gov. Goebel. The people of Illinois don't seem to want to indorse murder by the majority shown above.

AN Atlanta husband wants a divorce because his wife "cruelly belabored him with a broomstick." His petition in the suit concludes as follows: "I pray the court to deliver me from a woman who is so wanting in wifely respect as to assail her husband with a broomstick." Poor fellow! It is to be hoped that he will not only get surcease from his troubles, but big alimony besides.

A KENTUCKY couple failed to get married in Indiana because the clerk was not satisfied that they were old enough. If this conscientiousness gets to be epidemic through the Hoosier State, Kentucky children will have to outgrow their swaddling clothes before they can get married.

EDITOR CAMPBELL, of the Somerset Journal, who knows whereof he affirms, says: "Dead men tell no tales, but the writers of obituaries often do. They'll have to tell some whoppers when some men die."

THE Democrats of the Tenth district made a wise choice when they returned Frank Hopkins to Congress. He is a vigorous, active young Democrat, who will reflect credit on his section and State.

POLITICAL.

Gov. Beckham spoke to 8,000 people at a Masonic picnic near Hardensburg. Hon. John D. White denies a rumor that he will withdraw from the race for Congress in the Eleventh district.

Editor W. Reed Embury has had his father, Mr. T. P. Embury, appointed commissary clerk at the Frankfort penitentiary.

M. E. Small, of Carrollton, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth district.

It is announced from Indianapolis that Vice President Fairbanks will not make any political speeches during the campaign this fall.

N. B. Hays, attorney general, candidate for governor, will speak at the court house in Danville at 2 o'clock Aug. 20, county court day.

Attorney Charles J. Bronston, of Lexington, will be the leading counsel in the prosecution of the murderers of Gov. William Goebel, succeeding the late Thomas C. Campbell.

Representative Thomas Davis, the only Democratic Congressman from West Virginia, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. New Jersey Democrats are preparing to line up in the Bryan column for 1908. Every party leader of prominence in the State has declared for the Nebraska.

Chairman Josiah Quincy, of the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee, says that the sentiment of the State and local committees is overwhelmingly for Bryan.

Some of the Republican leaders in Washington who are figuring on the political complexion of the next Congress concede that the Democrats will gain 37 seats. The Democrats say this estimate is decidedly too low.

On the 18th ballot the Tenth district Democratic convention at Pikeville nominated the Hon. Frank A. Hopkins, of Prestonburg, the present Representative, for Congress. Mr. Hopkins was not an announced candidate.

Chairman Lewis McQuown issued a call for a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee in Frankfort August 11, to consider the report of the subcommittee regarding the details and expense of the State primary.

In an election fight at Cold Springs, Texas, E. B. Adams, Democratic nominee for Tax Assessor, was instantly killed, Sam Adams, his brother, was shot in the head and it is believed fatally wounded; W. Y. Robertson was badly wounded and C. W. Williamson wounded, but not dangerously. Williamson, it is alleged, did most of the shooting.

A mild political sensation was caused in Owensboro by the publication of an interview given out by Judge E. P. Taylor, clerk of the Daviess County Court, one of the best-known politicians of Western Kentucky, to the effect that he thought Democrats of Kentucky would make a great mistake if they refused to indorse Senator McCreary's candidacy for re-election to the Senate. Judge Taylor, who declares for McCreary, has been one of the Beckham leaders in Western Kentucky in the past. He has just returned from a meeting of the County Clerks of the State at Elizabethtown, and says that he found sentiment almost unanimous for McCreary.

CHURCH MATTERS.

In accordance with the action taken by the General Association at its recent conference in Richmond, the Southern Baptist Church of Kentucky has taken initial steps to establish a Baptist sanitarium in Louisville.

The meeting at McKendree church, Hubble, closed Friday night. The visible results are several professions of salvation and 16 additions to the church. The pastor, Rev. P. J. Ross, was assisted by Rev. William S. Maxwell, of Chaplain.

A series of gospel meetings will begin Wednesday night at Mt. Eden church on the Yates Creek pike near Spears. Prof. B. J. Pinkerton, the regular preacher, will be assisted in these meetings by Rev. J. H. Stawbough, of Lexington, who will do the preaching, and by Prof. Leonard Daugherty, of Louisville, who will have charge of the music. —Jessamine Journal.

Unnecessary Expense.

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

UNDER the new law it is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for anyone not holding State license to auctioneer. Col. J. P. His address is Stanford Ky.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

The rectifiers of Louisville say they will refuse to pay taxes under the cent and a quarter gallon tax on any whisky rectified from any but single-stamp spirits. Summer Comfort and Cleanliness

The pores of the skin are responsible for most complexion troubles. Summer dust, the strain of vacation travel, combined with the grease of perspiration, clog and suffocate the pores. Keep them clear and healthy, so that the natural oils may do their work of softening the skin.

POMPEIAN MASSAGE CREAM

withdraws every particle of impurity from the pores—all the way through—and by gently exercising the facial muscles rounds them out to perfect development; blackheads and wrinkles immediately disappear, leaving nothing but the natural glow of health.

GENEROUS SAMPLE FREE

If you call at our store we will gladly give you free a generous sample of the cream and a copy of the famous book, A Treatise on Facial Massage
